

All I've Got

David Firth

I'm not much but I'm all I've got
And I offer all to you.
All is genuine and free; untamed simplicity
Open to the possibility you will share the gift of you.

Two hands to touch you when you're hurting
And kneed the wheat and flower to make you bread.
Two silent arms to hold you when you're feeling all alone
And eyes to see your beauty when the light is dim within your soul.

I'm not much but I'm all I've got
And I offer all to you.
All is genuine and free; untamed simplicity
Open to the possibility you will share the gift of you.

My legs will carry me to you when you need me
And dance with you in the sunlight and the rain.
My voice will sing the truth even when it's hard to hear
'Cause my heart beats on each glimmer of
The chance to show you that you're loved.

I'm not much but I'm all I've got
And I offer all to you.
All is genuine and free; untamed simplicity
Open to the possibility you will share the gift of you.

So run around in circles if you have to
Dragging bags of lost and broken dreams.
Just remember love is burning deep inside you
And though you feel like you're not much
You're all you've got and that's a lot.

You may not feel like much but you're all you've got
And as you journey through each day,
Just be genuine and free; untamed simplicity
Open to the possibility you will share
The gift of you.

Open to the opportunities to share the gift of you.

Copyright © 1997 by David Firth