

Before I Wake

David Firth

If I should die before I wake
I'll be dreaming of you.
Your touch, you smile, your voice, your eyes
All say I love you.

And I should die before I wake
My soul will be at peace.
There's no greater love
In this world or the next
Then the love you pour on me.

My journey has been
Full of darkness and light
And it was in that light
I chose to walk with you.
You taught me how to love
As you loved me into life.
Every day I am born anew.

But if I should die before I wake
I'll still be here with you.
For you are MyBeloved and I am yours.
My heart belongs to you.

You taught me how to love
As you loved me into life.
Every day I am born anew.

But if I should die before I wake
I'll still be here with you.
For you are MyBeloved and I am yours.
My heart belongs to you.
My heart belongs...
To you.
