

Where Heaven Meets the Rainbow's End

by David Firth November 22, 2020

To laugh with you
To cry with you
To hold you close and never let go.
It's been such a long long time
I want to put this all behind.

You're in my dreams
Part of everything I see
Your touch is in the sunlight on my face.
But all of that is not the same as looking in your eyes again
Where heaven meets the rainbow's end.

To sing w/ you
Maybe swing with you
Beneath the golden moonlight up above.
We were safe and it was yours and mine.
I want to put this all behind.

I know it's not right
I drink a little more each night
to drown out all the voices in my head.
Just a little time with you would clear my mind and lead me to
Where heaven meets the rainbow's end.

Bridge 1: This wilderness I'm wandering through Is cold and dark for months with nothing new. And then
I think I hear your voice, it a moment to rejoice
Only to be dragged back down again.

Instrumental Verse....

Bridge 2: My life is hell while we're apart
I knew it would be like this from the start, and though every night I pray, the pain won't go away.
Sometimes I feel that I might just go insane.

My soul feels empty
My heart has up and left me
and time won't move until I am with you.
That's when we'll start to live again
when hope returns and love begins
where heaven meets the rainbow's end.

I know that we will live again
When hope returns and love begins
Where heaven meets the rainbow's end.

Copyright © 2020 by David Firth

