

I Believe

David Alan Firth

Lyrics by David Alan Firth and Marci Firth

I believe. I believe. I....believe.
I believe. I believe. I....believe,
In you my Lord.

I remember, it wasn't long ago
When I tried to work things out all on my own.
I never thought to care about
The ones who stood close by.
It's funny but I wondered just why
I felt so alone.

I believe. I believe. I....believe.
I believe. I believe. I....believe,
In you my Lord.

Had to find a new purpose for my living.
So began to search for the needs of other men.
Just where do I fit in and how much could I do?
In order to give I have to first believe in You.

I believe. I believe. I....believe.
I believe. I believe. I....believe,
In you my Lord.

Now I pray that God will hold to me tight.
For there's nowhere else in this world
I'd rather be.
I opened up my heart and there I found
That it was His love blooming all around
And something inside makes me want to
Stand up and sing... that

I believe. I believe. I....believe.
I believe. I believe. I....believe,
In you my Lord.
