

If You'll Try Again

David Alan Firth

You think you failed me. My friend, you think you've nailed me.
Said you weren't strong enough didn't have long enough
So hid from me.

And now you're worried. You think that I'm discouraged.
But I forgive you. Now you forgive you
And let it be.

And my friend, I knew there would be times
That you would fall.
But I love you, every part of you
The weak and the strong.

And so my friend, I'm inviting you
To live again.
So get on your feet. Trust in me
And we will win
If you'll try again.

Copyright © 1980, 1982, 2022 by David Alan Firth