

Today Is The Day

David Alan Firth

Today is the day that the Lord has made.
Let us rejoice. Let us give thanks. Yes...
Today is the day that the Lord has made.
Let us rejoice and give thanks.

Let us open ourselves to His mercy
For the times that we failed to love.
Let us seek first the needs of our brothers
And give thanks to our Father above.

Today is the day that the Lord has made.
Let us rejoice. Let us give thanks. Yes...
Today is the day that the Lord has made.
Let us rejoice and give thanks.

Today let us take time to listen
And respond to what the Lord has to say.
He is whispering and talking to all of us
Each one in His own special way.

Today is the day that the Lord has made.
Let us rejoice. Let us give thanks. Yes...
Today is the day that the Lord has made.
Let us rejoice and give thanks.

Today let us dance to the song in our hearts
As we joyfully celebrate life.
Life that was lovingly shared with us
By the Father through Jesus His Son.

Today is the day that the Lord has made.
Let us rejoice. Let us give thanks. Yes...
Today is the day that the Lord has made.
Let us rejoice and give thanks.
