

You Are My Friends

David Alan Firth

You are my friends. You are the colors of the rainbow, in my storming eyes.

You're who I love. You're the one I pray for everyday

And every night.

God's been good, that's nothing new; He's given me you.

You are my heart. You are the pieces that keep me from falling apart...day after day.

You are the charm. You are the faith, the hope the charity

That this world needs.

God's been good, that's nothing new; He's given us you.

You are the wisdom. You're there to help me with the wrongs and the rights in my mind.

You are the sun. You are the hills, the valleys, the mighty wind...

You are my friends.

God's been good, that's nothing new; He's given me you.

God's been good, that's nothing new;

He's given me you.
